Note From the Director

Freckleface Strawberry the Musical is based on the children's books written by movie star Julianne Moore. They're an account of her experiences as a seven year old.

Until you're around seven everything in life is good. Then one day on the playground somebody says, "Hey, you're a little bit different," and that doesn't feel so good. This show (like the show that preceded this one, The PROM) is about acceptance. This one awful day makes Freckleface sad until she realizes that it doesn't—that it's cool being different. What a great message.

The show is super cute. There are many different styles of music that make this show so fun. And there's a lot of them. They put about the same amount of music as a two-and-a-half hour Broadway musical into this 60-minute show.

This show was originally workshopped in New York with 23 children. Then they decided to go with seven adults playing children. The result is Broadway level songs and dances by older actors playing seven year olds. We are thrilled to give this age group of actors (11-15) a chance to have their very own challenging show.

You might be wondering where the name Freckleface Strawberry comes from. Here are the fun facts: When Julianne was a kid there was a drink mix (like Kool Aid) made by Pillsbury called Funny Face—"Funny Face is Fun to Drink!" They had fun names like "Rootin Tootin Raspberry," "Goofy Grape," "Loud Mouth Lime," "Choo Choo Cherry," and of course, "Freckleface Strawberry." All the neighborhood kids would call Julianne that, after the drink mix.

We had a great time putting this show together and we hope you enjoy this great show about how great it is to be different.

"We're different, just like everyone else".

Kenny
